Keynote Presentation by GT Reyes:

A settler on Huichin Oholone ancestral land, aka East Oakland, Dr. G.T. Reyes (Taga-Ilog & Kapampangan) is a community-engaged scholar-artist-organizer-PRAXISioner. His work is grounded in the empowerment of young folks, teachers, school leaders, and cultural workers to radically imagine and build capacity to transform their own realities while both excavating and honoring their ancestral ways of being and becoming. As an Assistant Professor in the Educational Leadership for Social Justice Ed.D. program and Preliminary Administrative Credential Services program at California State University, East Bay, he is an active part of cultivating programs that have liberatory potential and power. His approaches to educational leadership development, research, and professional learning are rooted in critical, socio-cultural, & ethnic studies discourses that forefront culturally sustaining and radical healing pedagogies while also decentering whiteness and coloniality.

In addition to his work at CSUEB, he coaches school leaders and is also a founding school designer and Board member for the forthcoming Homies Empowerment Community High School for Oakland Success (HECHOS), which aims to welcome "home" formerly incarcerated, gang-impacted/involved, and school-marginalized youth to invoke and reframe the Warrior, Scholar, Hustler, and Healer within and toward a vision of emancipation and self-determination. He completed his Post Doctoral Fellowship from Stanford University and his Ph.D. in Language, Literacy, Society, and Culture in Education at the University of California at Berkeley.

11:30 a.m.-11:45 a.m. Refreshment & Technology Break (Regency Ballroom 4/5/6)

11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.

Concurrent Sessions Round #1

#1 Putting the Money Where Our Mouth Is (Big Sur 1&2)

The California Community College Chancellor's Office (CCCCO) has made clear their commitment to serving the needs of queer and trans students. Despite this stated commitment, funding allocated to extend or develop innovative and impactful programs to serve queer and trans students has been lacking. Please join the presenters, as they unveil the grant program from the Chancellor's Office providing financial support to campuses in setting up services to serve our queer and trans students.

Presented by: Michael Quiaoit, Dean of Educational Services and Support for the CCCCCO and Dr. Emilie Mitchell, Interim Dean of Social and Behavioral Sciences at Cosumnes River College and Co-Lead of the CCC LGBTQ+ Summit

#2 The SJCC Student Equity Framework: A Guide to Operationalize Equity and Empower Student Success (Big Sur 3)

Equity principles bolster student development and learning outcomes when integrated into the design and delivery of programs, curricula, policies, processes, and services. As such, community college administrators must look forward, thinking of collaborative, innovative, and effective ways to operationalize equity and empower campus community members with the means to identify, the agency to challenge, and the authority to remove inequitable structures. This session will highlight the development and implementation of the SJCC Student Equity Framework. The SJCC Student Equity Framework integrates six thematic areas (Awareness, Assessment, Advocacy, Access, Achievement, and Action) to serve as an equity assessment tool toward strengthening and sustaining student success.

Presented by: Dr. Rene Alvarez, Dean of Academic Success and Student Equity, San Jose City College, William Garcia, Vice President of Student Affairs, San Jose City College and Blake Balajadia, Director of Student Development and Activities, San Jose City College

#3 Predicting the Future: Exploring Hybrid Learning through Many Voices. (Spyglass 1) In this session we will explore how specific engagement methods focused on equity - workshops and community surveys - were used to create an inclusive and well informed master plan for the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCCD).

This case study illustrates how an institution can navigate the uncertainties related to a hybrid learning future: campus spaces, budget priorities, pedagogy, culture, equity, and student, faculty, and staff experience. We will include results from the Education Engagement Index: national survey research on community college student and faculty experience and future preferences for hybrid learning. This session will not only share the different techniques used to engage with the campus community, but also how the findings were interpreted to inform a master plan.

Moderated by: Deborah Shepley, Principal, Gensler

Presented by: Erin Cubbison, Strategy Director, Gensler and Brianna Hays, Senior Dean of Institutional Effectiveness, Cuyamaca College

#4 You mean they get to see my email?! Responding to California Public Records Act Requests (SpyGlass 2)

This will be an interactive session covering the CA Public Records Act, required administrator response, how different constituencies (student journalists, parents, private investigators, union reps, the media, and your own employees) are using the Act to examine your operations, and how to manage risk associated with these records. The session will include a multimedia presentation, facilitated discussion, and learning activities that involve the attendees.

Presented by: Mark Fields, Dean of Academic Affairs, Laney College

#5 Equity at the Margins: Building High Quality Prison Education Programs (Cypress 1/2/3) This session will focus on practices that build, stabilize and support the growth of quality degree pathways in state and local correctional facilities. Based on the experiences and reflections of a pilot turned regional program, we will examine the ways in which our equity work must travel to the margins of our communities in order to ensure education truly belongs to all. Practical and programmatic insight will be shared, as well as strategies for building a high quality network of allies. Efforts to support guided pathways, social justice, anti-racism, recidivism reduction, and campus culture will be explored.

Presented by: Dr. Mariko Peshon McGarry, Dean, Prison and Reentry Education Program, Folsom Lake College, Dr. Monica Pactol, Vice President of Instruction, Folsom Lake College

12:45 p.m.-1:45 p.m. Lunch & Networking (Regency Ballroom Main)

1:45 p.m.-2:45 p.m.

Concurrent Sessions Round #2

#1 At the Intersection of Race, Religion & Sexuality (Big Sur 1 & 2)

*Students come to institutions with many complex identities, and institutions must understand all disproportionately impacted identities, which can be related to racial, sexual, gender, and/or spiritual identities. This workshop will share research and practices to serve students who are LGBTQ+, religious/spiritual, and racially minoritized. Attendees will hear narratives of Queer and Trans BIPOC students as they encountered isolation, hate crimes, distress, and then a passion for social justice. This presentation will enlighten administrators and equip them with resources to support students encountering hostile campuses; the workshop will close with specific actions for administrators and institutions to implement to ensure students are holistically served, supported, and guided to success. The presentation is based on Dr. Moon-Johnson's bestselling book, Beyond Surviving: From Religious Oppression to Queer Activism.*

Presented by: Dr. Joshua Moon-Johnson, Dean of Student Services and Title IX Coordinator, American River College

#2 Achieving Equitable Dual Enrollment in Rural California (Big Sur 3)

Multiple barriers to higher education exist in rural California. Rural areas represent the lowest incomes, least access to higher education, and lowest educational attainment in California. How can we best provide equitable supported access to higher education in some of our most underserved areas ? Personalized, wrap-around support for the dual enrollment environment is a good place to start.

Join me on a journey to discover how Mendocino-Lake Community College District, in a service area of 3,200 miles, with no four-year university, has creatively used the tools made available during the pandemic to offer dual enrollment opportunities in over 15 different high school districts, with student bodies ranging from 1,594 to 9! Evidence based data and statistics, combined with personalized student stories await you.

Presented by: Amanda Fox Xu, Ph.D. Dean of Centers, Mendocino College

#3 Dodging Disaster: Understanding the Impact of Latent Bias in Recruitment (Spyglass 1) Bias acts as a cognitive shortcut, moving a thought process through pre-determined tendencies without resorting to higher level critical thinking. This workshop explores biases that extend beyond protected characteristics, and which many don't realize play a role in safeguarding an equitable recruiting process. Participants will be asked to identify and reflect on the mental shortcuts that can place a thumb on the scale during the hiring process.

Presented by: Randy Erickson, Principal Attorney, Erickson Law Firm, Charo Albarran, Associate Vice President, Human Resources Training and Development, Napa Valley College

#4 Listen to Your Heart (Spyglass 2)

In a time when restorative practices are necessary, this presentation will offer strategies to lead and survive in a world that can be full of ego-driven people and toxic work environments. Avoiding burnout requires healthy boundaries and work/life balance in a world of technology and access where there are no borders. This interactive session will engage participants in self examination, exploration of concepts, and solution seeking.

Presented by: Dr. Jennifer Zellet, Vice President of Instruction, Modesto Junior College, Dr. Lonita Cordova, Vice President of Student Services, San Joaquin Delta College

#5 DEI: Is Disability Included? (Cypress 1/2/3)

The short answer to the question in the title is yes. The long answer is: it should be. According to the CDC, one in four adults in the United States has a disability making the disability community one of the largest minority groups. As such, establishing the foundation for and maintaining successful diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) initiatives should start with including this significant minority group. Even more so, the structural inequity students with disabilities face are often compounded by race, ethnicity, and immigration status. This presentation will provide historical background and the current status of services for students with disabilities and explore potential solutions as to how to include them in the DEI efforts.

Presented by: Edina Rutland, Director of Student Accessibility Services, San Jose City College

2:45 p.m.-3:00 p.m. Refreshment & Technology Break (Regency Ballroom 4/5/6)

3:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Concurrent Sessions Round #3

#1 Creating Shared Ownership of Institutional Data (Big Sur 1 & 2)

Having accurate data is essential to decision-making about student success and institutional effectiveness and is also now the basis for revenue generation and performance monitoring. This session will describe how the North Orange County Community College District engendered shared ownership of institutional data through virtual districtwide data discussions utilizing interactive, hands-on sessions, small group facilitators, and “live” documentation. Over the course of 27 districtwide meetings in 2020-2021, more than 100 employees collaborated to identify roles and responsibilities (RACI Matrices), create documentation of data processes (MIS Desk Guides), and develop action plans for improvement. Strategies for increasing communication and collaboration around data accuracy and integrity, capitalizing on the current remote work environment will be shared and discussed.

Presented by: Gabrielle Stanco, District Director, Research, Planning and Data Management, and Dr. Cherry Li-Bugg, Vice Chancellor, Educational Services and Technology, North Orange County Community College District

#2 Leading an Educational Revolution: Linking Institutional and Personal Values (Big Sur 3)

Leading an educational revolution is a complex and multifaceted process for CCC administrators. Everyday values and beliefs impact the way leaders function, make decisions and work with teams. To create long lasting systemic change, leaders must start with examining their own ambition, ethical behaviors, and leadership style through self-reflection and connecting personal values to those of the institution. This session will explore Values Based Leadership (VBL) models for ethical, authentic, and transformational leadership to maximize long term effectiveness, institutional outcomes and to revolutionize your educational institution. Are you ready?

Presented by: Nicole Jones, Dean of Counseling, Cuyamaca College

#3 Reinventing Service in A Time of Panic and Pandemic (Spyglass 1)

Shelter-in-place orders in March 2020 forced colleges to reimagine and reinvent how we work and how we serve. Community Colleges across the state needed to radically pivot to fully online remote services in a manner for which there was no manual, roadmap, nor atlas. We underwent radical shifts in organization and reinvented our service to reach students and live our mission. How does a college navigate this shift while retaining a strong sense of belonging and community? Ohlone College embraced this journey (with trepidation) and rediscovered the transformative power of people and purpose. In this session we will explore the challenges and unique solutions we faced as an organization and our planning processes as we realized there is no returning to our more static pre-pandemic model of education and service.

Presented by: Ghada Al-Masri, Dean of Social Sciences, Ohlone Community College

#4 Integrating Diversity, Equity & Inclusion into your District (Spyglass 2)

No matter where you are in this process, beginner, intermediate or advanced, this panel will help you take the next step in embedding DEI into your campus culture. This session will provide ideas and open dialogue to uncover strategies for making every student and employee feel welcome and included in your District.

Presented by: Diane Fiero, Deputy Chancellor and Chief DEI Officer, Santa Clarita Community College District, Cindy Vyskocil, Vice Chancellor, Human Resources, South Orange Community College District,

Crystal Crane, Executive Director, Human Resources, Coast Community College District

#5 ACCCA<sup>x</sup> Talks (Cypress 1/2/3)

The Obstacle was the Way: Strategic Leadership and Maximizing Resources
Increasing Transfer Student Retention Rates at Four Year Institutions
Mentoring: An ideal way to serve and create relationships

4:00 p.m. – 4:15 p.m. Refreshment & Technology Break (Regency Ballroom 4/5/6)

4:15 p.m. – 5:15 p.m.

Concurrent Sessions Round #4

#1 Panthers, Butterflies, Farm Workers & Disability (Big Sur 1 & 2)

THE BLACK PANTHERS, THE BUTTERFLY BRIGADE, AND THE UNITED FARM WORKERS OF AMERICA; THEIR ROLE IN THE DISABILITY RIGHTS MOVEMENT.

Not everyone is aware of the degree to which the disability community has significantly contributed to and relied upon the intersectional character of America's civil rights history. The Section 504 Sit-In, the longest occupation of a Federal building in US history, was as deeply intersectional as the disability community itself. While the disability community has come a long way since the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act, it still has a surprisingly long way to go. Access, inclusion, and universal design by post-secondary administrators, faculty and staff is the single most necessary and promising pathway to equity for ALL students.

Presented by: Paul Grossman J.D., P.A., Executive Counsel, Association for Higher Education and Disability, Malia Flood, Ph.D., Dean of Access and Wellness, Mt. San Antonio College

#2 ACCCA Professional Development Open House

Are you new to ACCCA's Professional Development programs? Do you have questions about program offerings from ACCCA? Join us for this session! Get all your questions about ACCCA's professional development answered.

#3 Negotiation Boot Camp - How to Prepare for Collective Bargaining (Spyglass 1) This workshop will provide an overview of labor relations and collective bargaining in community college districts and how administrators can effectively prepare. Topics will include the preparation and presentation of initial proposals and the relevant authority and recent legal developments regarding bargaining requirements and obligations under the EERA. It will also include the various roles of each team member and board, and offer strategies on how to build improved labor relations, present financial data, retain management rights, and avoid grievances and unfair practice charges.

Presented by: Randy Erickson, Principal Attorney, Erickson Law Firm, Kim Widdes, Executive Director, Human Resources, South Orange Community College District, Cindy Vyskocil, Vice Chancellor, Human Resources, South Orange Community College District and Ann-Marie Gabel, Vice Chancellor, Business Services, South Orange Community College District

#4 Heading for the Exits: The Administrative Exodus in the California Community Colleges and Strategies to Confront it (Spyglass 2)

It's called alternatively "The Great Resignation" (NPR, HBR, The Atlantic, Washington Post, etc.) or "The Great Reshuffle” (LinkedIn, Bloomberg, etc.). Employees, across all stages, are leaving employment all together or changing careers for reasons not seen at this scale prior to the Pandemic. This is especially true for leaders. Recent national statistics, and our own eyes, are telling us that when the going gets tough, even the toughest leaders are choosing to just GO.

Increasing early retirements and fewer quality candidates in hiring pools all point to one inescapable fact: community colleges are quickly losing the leadership game. And why is that? What used to be seen as a desirable top-tier profession is now, for many, something to be endured and survived, and hopefully escaped with health, reputation and sanity intact.

A growing chorus of those heading for the exits are telling us that a lack of respect and support, increasing politicization of local boards, growing dissatisfaction with working conditions, frustrations with ever-shifting state priorities and the impacts of the pandemic are top motivating factors.

Organizations like ACCCA, ACBO, ACHRO and the League among others, are working to find ways to mitigate these impacts and exploring policies and practices that will support administrative teams as they manage in this volatile, sustained-crisis environment.

experts who are working diligently to develop and deliver solutions to this challenge. Our dialog will exp Our panel includes the perspectives of current system leaders and those about to exit their leadership roles; it will also include executive coaches and professional wellness lore both constructive policies and practices that can be implemented now as well as the need for a greater focus on long-term support and wellness. If you're concerned about the future leadership of the California Community Colleges, you need to take part in this discussion!

Presented by: Doug Houston, Chancellor Emeritus, Yuba CCD, Willy Duncan, Superintendent/President, Sierra Community College District, Samia Yaqub, Superintendent/President, Butte-Glenn Community College District

#5 Cultural Competence & Sensitivity in the Workplace (Cyress 1/2/3)

Understanding people of different backgrounds and cultures is increasingly important in today's multicultural work environment. Cultural sensitivity training can help educational institutions increase cultural competency and prevent conflicts that can lead to incidents of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. Participants will learn what it means to have cultural sensitivity and how to implement culturally sensitive behavior.

#1 Successfully Navigating the Ripple Effects of Community College Regulations and Initiatives (Big Sur 1 & 2)

There are more opportunities than ever to use the constantly changing landscape to our advantage. Despite the many regulations and initiatives that govern our funding, we can take what we know and expand our capacity to grow programs and serve students. This presentation will provide strategies developed through lived experiences resulting in successful outcomes! .

Presented by: Jason Hinkle, Associate Vice President, Business Services, Santa Clarita Community College District

#2 Real Talk with Women of Color in Community College Leadership (Big Sur 3) In this session, our panelists will share their stories of becoming successful women of color as community college administrators. Facilitators will ask them to describe their journeys and their experiences, triumphs and challenges they have faced, and how they have persevered along that path. Those in attendance will also have the opportunity to ask questions of the panelists.

#3 Cultivating Mental Wellness (Spyglass 2)

This interactive session will focus on breaking the mental health stigma among leaders, increasing mental health awareness, and promoting self-care practices. To achieve these goals, participants will create a plan that includes 6 defined areas of self-care: physical, intellectual/psychological, emotional, professional, social, and spiritual, in order to achieve a more healthy version of themselves. Electronic worksheets, relaxation videos, and other resources will be provided.

#2 Implementing Employment Practices that Support Cultural Competence in the Workplace (Big Sur 3)

Our communities are comprised of a mix of races, ethnicities, religions, sexual orientations, cultures, values and languages. Educational institutions show support for diversity and inclusion, yet claims of discrimination continue to rise. This presentation will assist human resource administrators in implementing policies and expectations to promote cultural competence in the workplace to help defend claims of discrimination and foster a more positive and productive workplace.

Presented by: Brooke Jimenez, Partner, AALRR, Beverly Ozowara, Associate, AALRR

#3 Reinventing Partnerships to Reconnect with Refugee Students During the Pandemic (Spyglass 1)

When the SDCCE went remote on March 14th, 2020, we had 48 hours to communicate with students about the shift to online and how they would connect with us. At the time, SDCCE had approximately 2,000 students in beginning ESL classes, most of whom lacked technology and/or digital literacy skills in addition to having limited English.

In this session we will explore how our team quickly reconnected with these students and their families using strategies like a multilingual help desk, multilingual texting, and Zoom enrollment sessions.

Our presenters will discuss how CalWORKs students received laptops and hotspots; and will demonstrate how ESL instructors created videos to show students how to access courses and services. Transitioning back to campus in fall 2021, CalWORKs and ESL continue to innovate together to serve beginning ESL and refugee students.

3:15 p.m. – 4:15 p.m. Concurrent Sessions Round #7

#1 The Administrator's Perspective: Equal Employment Opportunity Hiring for Student Success (Big Sur 1 & 2)

Community college districts have long been required to develop equal employment opportunity (EEO) plans designed to diversify their workforce and identify and address underrepresentation. LCW offers two related workshops on the issue of how to promote workforce diversity from the academic and classified administrators' perspectives, while complying with districts' Title 5 EEO responsibilities.

Presented by: Alysha Stein-Manes, Associate, Liebert Cassidy Whitmore, Andrea Barrera Ingley, Director of Employment Services/Personnel Commission, Ventura County Community College District, Amy Brandt, Associate, Liebert Cassidy Whitmore

#2 Agile, Prepared, and Poised: Strategies for Women who Aspire to Career and Personal Balance. (Spyglass 1)

When was the last time you took a deep breath? This session is designed especially for aspiring women administrators seeking balance in both personal and career success. We will reflect on the pandemic with its challenges and lessons learned, and how to cultivate networks, build careers, and navigate politics as we enter post-pandemic times. Join us to discuss work/life balance and how, as a leader, you navigate return to campus plans as well as nurture your own goals. Our panel of experienced administrators in different life phases will share their strategies for balancing full lives and share the wisdom gained over the years. The panel will engage the audience to discuss daily practices you can start today, and provide a handout to help you make small adjustments to reach your goals.

#2 Improving and Scaling Online Program Quality (Spyglass 1)

The recent pandemic has offered an opportunity for colleges to expand and amplify the value of their online programs in order to increase student enrollment, success, and completion, while reducing equity gaps in those metrics. The California Virtual Campus-Online Education Initiative (CVC-OEI) is creating a toolkit and set of processes and support services to help colleges assess their online programs and improve critical elements to serve students more effectively and improve college outcomes. This includes resources to improve online course design and online teaching, as well as department-level supports and online student services. Let us share how you can take your online program to the next level!
